POST YOUR TICKETS FOR SALE TO OTHER FANS

You can use TicketExchange through ClickTix at Bulls.com to sell your season tickets anonymously to other fans. TicketExchange utilizes Ticketmaster's secure online exchange service.

To sell your tickets to any game, easily and securely:

- 1) Visit ClickTix at Bulls.com, log into your personal account using your account ID and password (found on your season ticket invoice and other correspondence) and click on TicketExchange.
- 2) Highlight the game and tickets you wish to sell.
- 3) Choose the selling price (face value or up to 99 times face value) and the expiration date of the tickets you wish to sell. You'll be informed of your listing status via an automatic email notification system. Your tickets can be posted at any time up until 12 hours before game time.
- 4) If your tickets are sold, choose how you would like to receive that money. Your two options are:

“Credit my Bank Account”- Your money will be applied to the bank account of your choice approximately 3-4 weeks after your tickets are sold.

“Credit my Chicago Bulls Account”- Your money will be applied toward your Chicago Bulls Season Ticket Account as a deposit toward your 2012 Playoff tickets (should the Bulls qualify), or your season tickets for 2012-13.

If your tickets are sold, the buyer will receive your tickets instantly by email. The buyer can print the tickets and use them for admittance to the United Center. Your original tickets become void (the bar codes on those tickets get canceled and will not be accepted at the United Center).

Before using TicketExchange, please read all the Terms and Conditions posted on ClickTix at Bulls.com.

Email Your Tickets for FREE with at Bulls.com

With ClickTix at Bulls.com, you can send your tickets to virtually anyone with ticket forwarding (up until one hour before tip off). This service allows you to email your tickets to almost anyone when you cannot attend a game.

Simply log on to your personal account and select the ticket or groups of tickets you wish to send. Enter the recipient's information and send the tickets instantly! You don't even need to have the tickets in hand. Ticket forwarding is a free alternative to overnight delivery or courier services.

How It Works

Each season ticket has a unique bar code ensuring its authenticity. During the ticket forwarding process, the bar codes on your original tickets are canceled, and new ones are issued electronically. The recipient is emailed new bar coded tickets that can be printed on any standard printer.
